THE OLYMPIC MUSEUM - LAUSANNE

The Lausanne Olympic Museum has the most-prestigious collection of Olympic objects in the world: sports equipment, torches, medals, mascots, posters, stamps and coins, pins, official outfits and ceremony costumes, not forgetting a rare collection of statuettes, vases, amphorae and jewels which bear witness to the splendour of the Ancient Games, nor the numerous souvenirs recalling the life and work of Baron Pierre de Coubertin! After 20 months of transformation, the Olympic Museum reopened to the public mid-December 2013. With its new exhibition areas, it encourages visitors to delve into the history, legacy, dreams, challenges and values which have combined to make the Olympic Movement what it is today. In addition to the exhibitions, a variety of cultural programmes are on offer.
