

Eurail bonuses

Eurail Pass holders are granted reduced fares and sometimes even free offers. The traveller can obtain these bonus discounts locally, or sometimes through a call centre or website of the company offering the bonus.

Validity of the Eurail Pass when using a bonus

When traveling on a Pass with a certain number of flexible travel days please note that a free transportation bonus requires use of a travel day; in case of a free overnight ferry, the holder may either enter the day of departure or the day of arrival in the calendar. Reduction bonuses do not require use of a travel day.

For free passage on international routes, the Eurail Pass must be valid for the country of departure AND the country of arrival. For a reduced passage, the Eurail Pass must be valid for the country of departure OR the country of arrival. If traveling at a reduced rate, the travel may take place at any time, provided it is within the overall validity of the Eurail Pass, even if all the travel days in the calendar have been used up.
